

The New Zealand Universities Academic Audit Unit is delighted to advise that we have a new name and visual identity. From 1 January 2013 we will be known as the Academic Quality Agency for New Zealand Universities.

It has been nearly 20 years since we were established, and we feel that our new name and distinctly New Zealand image reflect the broader quality enhancement focus of the organisation as well as the key role we play in supporting the quality assurance and advancement of New Zealand's eight universities.

You will see our new name and image in publications and on our website as we progressively roll out the changes in early-2013. Our new website address is www.aqa.ac.nz and our email addresses will now be @aqa.ac.nz (e.g., director@aca.ac.nz and comms@aca.ac.nz). In the meantime, our other contact details remain unchanged, as does our constitution and structure.

The timing of this change coincides with the launch of a new cycle of academic audits and a new audit framework in 2013. Check out our website for more details as they are confirmed. Please contact me if you have any queries about our new name or Cycle 5 audits.
